Choose Your Classes

Spring semester is just around the corner! Consider what classes you want to enroll in before registration opens on Thursday, November 15. Beginning that day, you can log into NYU's student information system, Albert, to build your spring semester schedule. Review the links below for guidance in selecting your preferred core curriculum classes, plus an elective of your choosing.

And while you may be thinking mostly about classes right now, we are asking you to hit the books already. Before arriving to NYU, please read The Fire This Time, by Jesmyn Ward. During Orientation, you will join your classmates for a special discussion of the book with LS professor Mitchell S. Jackson and contributing authors.

November is an exciting time in which you will begin your academic journey by selecting your classes with Liberal Studies -- your academic home at NYU.

Pre-Arrival Checklist

November To-Do's:

- Register for classes on 11/15
Apply and pay deposit for on-campus housing ASAP
Accept any financial aid awards
Submit proof of high school graduation to the NYU Office of Admissions
Submit any advanced standing credit you earned in high school to the NYU Office of Admissions
International students: look out for the email from NYU Global Services with visa instructions

Upcoming:

- December: Complete the new student reading, The Fire This Time
- December: Look out for the New Student Orientation schedule (1/23-1/25)
- January: Pay bill or enroll in payment plan

Meet Mitchell S. Jackson
Clinical Associate Professor
Mitchell Jackson is a clinical associate professor of writing in Liberal Studies at NYU. He is also the award-winning author of The Residue Years and an acclaimed speaker on writing as well as issues of race and society. In his free time, he enjoys exploring the cultural offerings of NYU and New York City. Professor Jackson will lead your discussion of Between the World and Me at New Student Orientation.

Important Links

- Registration Guide
- Registration Webinar
- Spring Courses
- Next Stop Spring

Questions?
Contact your advisor, Leah Guarino-Ramirez or Leslie DeWaters.

Copyright © 2018 New York University -- Liberal Studies, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you are schedule to start at NYU Liberal Studies in Spring 2019.