Get Ready for Classes

Your first semester at NYU will introduce you to important works of the ancient world, through your Arts & Cultures and Global Works & Society classes. You will also hone your writing skills in Writing as Exploration, and select an elective in a field of interest or meet a requirement for your intended major. The classes you take will build upon these themes and prepare you to finish your core requirements as a sophomore.

REGISTRATION

Spring 2022 Registration Guide

A comprehensive document with everything you need to know about how and where to register. Please review carefully as it was designed to answer most, if not all, of your questions including how to use Albert, which courses are required, suggestions for a fourth course and University resources.

Click here to review and bookmark the Spring 2022 Registration Guide

PreHealth Students and Science majors: pay special attention to pages 11 through 13
Spring 2022 Registration Webinar
Find out key steps for choosing and registering for your spring classes by tuning into our Live Registration Webinar below. Be sure to register and save the date.
Wednesday, October 27th at 6:00pm EST - REGISTER HERE!
Also mark your calendar for other important dates listed below as you prepare for NYU!

PRE-ARRIVAL CHECKLIST

October To-Do's:

- RSVP for the Registration webinar
- Obtain and begin reading the assigned book for NYU Reads Braiding Sweetgrass, by Robin Wall Kimmerer (2013), to be discussed at orientation
- Apply for housing on 10/15
- Review the pre-requisite and placement policies for math, or some majors might recommend specific courses (like statistics), so be sure to connect with your advisor to understand math options
- Remember to accept any financial aid awards on NYU Albert via the Accept/Decline Financial Aid link and follow the instruction
- Remember to submit proof of high school graduation to NYU Admission

International Students:

- Connect with the Office of Global Services (OGS) regarding your I-20 application ASAP!
- If you were asked to complete the AELS questionnaire, please make sure to submit this ASAP!

UPCOMING!

November

- Read the November newsletter, to be sent Friday, November 5th
- Submit any advanced standing credit you earned in high school
- Register for classes on Thursday, November 18th

December

- Receive and review your Spring 2022 invoice
• If you took a class over the gap semester, be sure to have an official transcript sent directly to your academic advisor
• Look out for information regarding move in and Spring 2022 Orientation

GET TO KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

Meet Lindsay Davies
Clinical Assistant Professor
Lindsay Davies (Clinical Professor) has been a member of the faculty at NYU-New York, since 1995. She was educated at the University of Leeds (UK) and Temple University, Philadelphia, and holds a PhD in English Literature, with sub-specialties in art history, drama, critical theory and modernism. She teaches interdisciplinary courses in global arts as well as the Senior Thesis Seminar in the Art, Text, Media concentration of NYU's Global Liberal Studies degree. She also co-teaches a seminar on World War One with the Department of History. She has previously taught at Temple University Tokyo, NYU-Florence, NYU-London, The University of the Arts and The School of Visual Arts. She has published widely, for both academic and general readerships, on diverse subjects such as Transnational Adoption, Romantic Poetry, British and American Drama, British Film, and British Modernism. When not teaching, she likes to travel to Europe and the UK as much as possible. Her last trip abroad was to Stavanger, Norway where she sang in a concert with the London Humanist Choir. She is pictured here on a chilly boat ride on the canals of Copenhagen, Denmark.